

Leading from the Living Room

Authentic, impactful leadership from a distance

This Espresso Pathway has been specifically curated to support managers and leaders at this very challenging time.

Comprised of three impactful and topical 90-minute Espresso modules, this Pathway is facilitated virtually by our experts and designed to enable you to be a role model in testing times.

Leading From The Living Room is an Espresso Pathway that explores the challenges all leaders are currently facing - how to support, engage and get the best out of individuals and teams who are working from home against a backdrop of exceptionally challenging, fearful and unusual circumstances.

The Expressos that feature in this Pathway are:

- Change and Leading in an Uncertain World
- Managing from a Distance
- Collaboration for Remote Teams

The way we work has changed; many of us have chosen to work at home occasionally for a while now, but suddenly we're all having to do it all of the time. This pathway explores what leaders need to do to ensure that their teams stay connected, healthy and productive.

Helping you to understand how people respond to change is key, as it will allow you to be both sensitive and instructive when needed to help calm emotions and guide performance.

There are specific best practice techniques for helping leaders maintain team performance and facilitate collaboration and connectivity. We will look at how to create trusting and psychologically safe environments where people feel comfortable contributing ideas and taking action.

The Small Print

This Espresso Pathway is delivered remotely using an interactive platform and sessions can be scheduled to suit your needs. Each Espresso can accommodate up to 20 people.

Total pathway cost £1,995.

www.3ghr.com

The Learning Outcomes

Adapt to the 'new normal' more quickly

Steady the ship and provide guidance

Foster trust to encourage open discussion and collaboration

Recognise the impact of change on others and help them to navigate change effectively

Reduce the impact of distance on your team - retain a sense of 'togetherness'

Maintain motivation and engagement

Keep on top of performance

Keep your team connected – to the business and to each other

Each individual Espresso module has its own specific set of walk-out skills, which means they can be implemented exactly according to your needs.

For more information please contact us – we'd love to talk to you.

0344 5432 121
hello@3ghr.com

3GHR
Management
Leadership | Coaching